Maharshi Karve
(1858 - 1962)

Maharshi Karve stree Shikshan Samstha

Maharshi Karve was a pioneer in the field of women's education. He established the 'Hingne Stree Shikshan Samstha' in 1896 (later renamed as 'Maharshi Karve Stree Shikshan Samstha') to empower women through education. The highest civilian award 'Bharat Ratna' was conferred upon him for his contribution towards the field of Women's education .

Maharshi Karve knew that women have the inherent power within them. The samstha continues to go ahead with conviction that education can create self - awareness among women and make them confident. Only then can they play an effective role in the nation - building.

The Samstha runs schools, teachers training institutes, hostels for students and working women, production units, technical and vocational training institutes etc. These branches strive to develop women into truly performing citizens.

The girl students here have a sound knowledge base. They have an opportunity to carve a glorious career and excel in the chosen field of activity.
